Arnold Hill Literary Festival

6th July 2017

Dear Parent

Re: The Arnold Hill Literary Festival – Year 7

The Arnold Hill Literary Festival takes place week commencing 10th July for one week. The festival will feature visits from critically acclaimed authors, writing workshops, story -telling and an array of exiting, interesting and stimulating activities.

Your son/daughter will be taking part in an author visit during the morning of Monday 10th July. The morning will begin with an assembly to the whole of the year group in our inspirational Auditorium and will then be followed up by a workshop for students who have applied to take part in this. Our visiting author, Paul Cookson, has written over sixty books, sold over a million copies and will be appearing as part of the Academy's TAG Literary Festival. After Paul's assembly and workshop, students will have the opportunity to purchase copies of his book which are priced at £6 each. He will also be selling copies of his popular comics which will be priced at £1 each. Paul will be happy to sign copies of any books purchased on the day at break in the Library in B-block.

I trust that you will be incredibly pleased with this fantastic literary opportunity. I look forward to seeing your child's participation on the day.

Yours faithfully
